Supply Line For Southern Area Broken, Tokyo's Navy Claims

HONG KONG, Oct. 13.—(UP)—The American gunboat Mindanao and three British gunboats may be trapped in the Pearl river at Canton during the Japanese South China drive, it was feared today. British naval authorities received information that the Chinese intended to throw an obstructive boom across the river today, to keep out Japanese warships.

Above the place where the boom would be constructed are the Mindanao and the British gunboats Cicala, Moth and Tarantula. Four boatloads of refugees arrived from Canton today, including 30 foreign women and children of whom 12 were Americans. Sixty Japanese war planes, "eyes" of Japan's new South China army, bombed railroads and highways between Hong Kong and Canton today while the Cantonese army moved toward the coast to challenge the invaders.

Refugees Create Problem British authorities here mobilized the special constabulary reserve to take care of the heavy flow of refugees into the colony. (Continued on Page Two)

AUTO COLLISION AT LEISTVILLE BASIS OF SUIT

Chester Stevens, Saltcreek township, filed suit through William A. Stevens, his father, in Common Pleas court Thursday against Samuel Myers, Portsmouth, seeking $5,043 damages.

The case is based on an auto wreck on June 18, 1937. Stevens' petition says he was driving his car on Route 56 when it was involved in a collision with that of the defendant, traveling on Route 159.

Stevens asks $5,000 for personal injuries, and says his auto valued at $50 before the accident, was worth $7 after the wreck. The petition claims Myers was driving at a high rate of speed and failed to observe signs and take proper precautions at the Leistville intersection.

As Lewis Offered to Resign

THIS photo of John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, was taken at his Washington press conference shortly after he told newsmen that he would resign his post in the C. I. O. if William Green, president of the rival American Federation of Labor, would resign his. When told of Lewis' offer at the convention of the A. F. of L. at Boston, Mass., Green called the plan "an attempted fraud on the public" and said he would leave his decision to the A. F. of L. vote. Green, unopposed, was up for reelection to the A. F. of L. presidency again. He has been elected each year for 14 years.

INMATE OF HOME YOUTHS HUNTED HURT SERIOUSLY IN NEW ENGLAND BY CLOTHES FIRE DEATH MYSTERY

Eliza Spangler, 74, inmate of the Pickaway county home, severely burned this week when his clothing caught fire from his pipe or some matches he had in his pocket, Thursday was "fair".

Mr. Spangler, who entered the institution last Saturday, was in the yard at the time of the accident. Just how the clothing ignited is not known.

H. E. Mowery, superintendent of the home, said Mr. Spangler ran into the building from the yard with his clothes blazing from his waist up. A blanket, fire extinguisher and bucket of water were used to put out the fire. The most severe burns were on his back.

Mr. Spangler formerly resided on S. Scoto street and hauled straw for the Container Corporation.

ELYRIA SHERIFF ORDERED TO PUT UP $50,000 BOND

ELYRIA, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Lorain county commissioners today notified Sheriff William F. Grall, who admitted receiving money from slot machine interests, that he must increase his office bond from $30,000 to $50,000 at once or be automatically disqualified.

It was the second time his bond had been ordered increased. It was raised from $15,000 a few weeks ago.

Sheriff Grall regarded as "complete vindication of me" the conviction of four of the five men tried in Common Pleas court here on charges of bribery in connection with slot machine operations.

The sheriff said he had no comment to make at present on demands that he resign from office because of testimony during the trial that he received "protection" payments from slot machine operators.

"But I am happy and pleased with the verdict," he said. "The jury used very good judgment, particularly in freeing David Crawford, sr."

He said he wanted to "talk to several people before I decide what I'm going to do." He went to Lorain this morning.

Nip And Prince Draw 3,200 Pounds Over 24 Feet On Clay Footing

Vincent Brothers of New Holland, carried away first, second and fifth prizes Wednesday with their teams in the lightweight horse pulling contest at the National Dairy Show, Columbus.

Herbert and Earl, Jr., won first prize with Nip and Prince, a bay team. The horses tugged 3,200 pounds 24 feet, 1 1/2 inches. Herbert then paired one horse he owned with one owned by Walter Ruoff, Grove City, and took the second prize. Third and fourth prizes went to John Day, Springfield, Ind.

Clay Footing Blamed

The team owned by Harley Mace, New Holland, driven by Harry Vincent, placed fifth. This team had set a new record at Coshocton last week by tugging 3,250 pounds for 27 1/2 feet. The record could not be reached Wednesday because of clay footing on the Coliseum floor. Sod is the best footing. There were 15 teams in the finals.

The winning team won $100 for first prize money. The 15 drivers divided $1,000. Awards ranged from $100 to $50.

The heavyweight pulling contest was scheduled Thursday with eliminations in the afternoon and finals in the evening.

Pickaway county grange chorus covered itself with glory, Wednesday night, as it won honors in the competitive concert at Laurelville. Hundreds of enthusiastic grangers and friends filled the Community Hall to capacity. Interest ran high in the quietly responsive audience as the well selected numbers of the choruses from Pickaway and Hocking counties were presented.

Baskets of large gorgeously colored dahlias interspersed with petted ferns were across the front of the stage forming an eye-appealing picture as each group stood in planned formation for its numbers. Turney Glick, Pickaway grange deputy, and Arlie Brimmer, deputy of Hocking County, were in charge of the contest which had been planned to further interest in music, especially chorus work, among the grangers, conforming

Motor Industry Reports Orders Setting Record

Buick Co. Sales Top 10-Year Mark; Double Shifts Necessary In Many Detroit District Factories

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—(UP)—A survey of the automobile industry today revealed a marked acceleration of re-employment.

The pace had quickened so that it promised to meet one of organized labor's most insistent demands—that the automobile industry find work for all its workers. It was suggested that the industry might be operating on production schedule soon, which would obviate the need for the 32 hour week solution of unemployment advanced by the United Automobile Workers.

The Buick Motor Car company announced that virtually all its plants were operating two shifts on the five day week. The company said its dealers had reported more orders for 1939 cars than they had had at any time in the last 10 years.

General Gain Seen

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors, predicted that his corporations' 1939 business would exceed that of 1938 and said he believed there were indications of "a long upward pull" for all business.

Company by company, the survey revealed:

BUICK:—Now employing 11,900 men at Flint plant and will recall 1,200 more before Nov. 1. Fisher body plant No. 1, servicing this plant, now employing 5,500 and will recall 500 more. Production schedule now calls for 7,000 cars more than original schedules and more than 8,000 men have been rehired since production started on 1939 models. Schedules call for 21,000 cars during October and 24,000 during November.

CHEVROLET:—Now working 9,000 men at Flint. Will rehired 3,000 more at a rate of 300 a day.

OLDSMOBILE:—Begins double shifts at Lansing plant next week. The addition will bring total employment to 8,500, approximately double the present figure.

CHRYSLER:—Has recalled 20,000 workers since production of 1939 cars began.

GRAHAM-PAIGE:—1939 production begins Monday.

HUDSON:—Now employing 6,000. Will be operating at capacity within a month with a force of 11,000 to 12,000.

FORD:—River Rouge plant still being refitted for 1939 production which expected to begin next

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—(UP)—A call to all state legislators to meet here soon to settle the controversy between the federal Social Security board and the Davey administration over the old age pension division's methods was sent out today by the Franklin county delegation in the legislature.

The eight legislators asked Lt. Gov. Paul Yoder, president of the senate, and Rep. Frank R. County Grange Chorus Victorious In Concert Competition at Laurelville to the program of the year, arranged by the state grange.

Band Present, Too

Pickaway county's 4-H club band under the leadership of Miss Bernelle Goodman played several selections before and during the program.

Mr. Brimmer announced the numbers presented by the Hocking chorus, which was directed by Mrs. James Smoot of Logan, wife of the Hocking county agent. Twenty-two persons made up the mixed chorus, presenting an attractively uniform appearance in black robes with white collars. Singing without notes, they presented "Finlandia", "Sibyllus", "But the Lord is Mindful", "Mendelssohn", and "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light" by Bach. They sang easily and well, showing understanding and interest in their work. Following the Hocking chorus, Mrs. Walter E. Brehm of Logan presented two humorous readings, the first, "My Music Education", the second, an original number written for her by Mr. Brehm. Mrs. Glick then presented the Pickaway chorus, with Thomas Heffner of that group announcing the numbers. The first was "Gian-nina Mia" (from "The Firefly") Friml-Rigger, by the chorus; the second, a solo, "The Blind Ploughman", Clarke, by Mr. Heffner; next "Goodnight, Goodnight Beloved", Pinsuti, the chorus; a solo, "Dawn", Curran, by Miss Elizabeth Reber, and the last, "Medley from the Sunny South", Victor Harris, by the chorus.

The chorus was outstanding in its work, perfect in attacks and releases, responding with crescendos and diminuendos at the slightest motion of the director's hand. The diversified program showed

Prague Invokes Martial Law; Budapest Set 6 O'clock Deadline

KOMAROM, Czech-Hungarian frontier, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Official dispatches today disclosed a reign of terror in Ruthenia by organized bands equipped with foreign arms and led by Hungarian reserve officers. The news caused a grave crisis in Czech negotiations for settlement of Hungary's minority demands.

The official Czech advices from Ruthenia, which Hungary has demanded be ceded to her, reported sporadic fighting in which at least two Czechoslovaks were killed and many Hungarians were arrested. Martial law was invoked by the Prague government.

Terrorism also was reported from Bratislava, where a number of Hungarians were arrested in the Perek district of Slovakia, part of which the Budapest government is demanding in its drive for return of more than 700,000 Magyars in Czechoslovakia. Those arrested were charged with terrorism.

Mukacevo, a city of 26,000, was the center of the Ruthenian terrorism which official statements described as "murder, manslaughter, robbery and crimes endangering the public."

While the terrorists reports increased, relations between Hungary and Czechoslovakia were strained by the threatened breakdown of negotiations for peaceful

$500,000 DAMAGE CAUSED BY FIRE AT OIL COMPANY

LINDEN, N. J., Oct. 13.—(UP)—Fire that raged more than 18 hours through the 12-acre Cities Service company plant, fed by almost 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline, naphtha, kerosene and oil from exploding storage tanks, was extinguished today after it had caused more than $500,000 damage.

Fire fighters, who had waged a losing battle most of the night, gained their first advantage early today when with four feet of foamite they extinguished a blazing 40-foot tank that had threatened to explode and spray the whole area with 2,000,000 gallons of flaming crude oil.

Five hundred fire-fighters were on the scene, struggling to keep the flames away from the nearby Sinclair Oil company plant, which has 30 storage tanks, and the Standard Oil company plant, large refinery in the world, with 800 tanks.

Twenty Cities Service tanks, containing 480,000 to 2,100,000 gallons of gasoline and oil each, already had been destroyed. Some had gone up in thundering explosions, some had collapsed when heat melted their seams. There were 175 tanks on the Cities Service property.

Fire companies from five cities had been waging a battle since 1 p. m. yesterday, when the fire started with the violent explosion of a 1,680,000-gallon storage tank. A three-ton mass of molten iron, dislodged by that blast, was hurled 150 yards onto tracks of the Central railroad of New Jersey.

All workmen at the plant escaped but seven fire-fighters had been burned or injured.

Chinese Plan Obstructive Boom To Halt Japanese War Streamers

Japanese troops moved inland on a path paralleling British leased territory on the mainland, but about 40 miles away.

Japanese navy sources asserted that already the Japanese had severed the Canton-Hong Kong railroad, life line of supply for all southern China.

It was asserted that Japanese met little serious resistance and that a force of 2,000 Chinese was wiped out at one point along the line of advance.

Chinese reported that advance guards of the defending and invading forces had met at three points near the coast and that there was fierce fighting in each instance.

Fearing devastating Japanese air raids, authorities of the American Lingnan university of Canton suspended classes. Women attached to the university were advised to leave the area.

The Japanese first cut the Honk Kong-Canton railroad by destroying three bridges in airplane raids.

The main force of the South China Japanese army was expected to make for the railroad at a point near Cheungmaktau, 50 miles from Hong Kong.

However, large forces of Cantonese troops were massing at Waichow, 80 miles East of Canton, and it was on this force, apparently, that the Chinese depended to save Canton.

Hence it was believed that the Japanese would have to attack Waichow before they attempted to occupy the railroad in force, as otherwise they would leave a big army on their right flank.

Fragmentary reports told of Japanese mass airplane and warship bombardments along the coast. Airplanes also attacked the Canton-Hankow railroad, extending northward, as well as the Hong Kong-Canton line.

Chinese asserted that their planes raided the main Japanese air base for southern China on Quemoy island, severely damaging some hangars.

settlement of the minority question. Developments included:

1. The Hungarian delegation rejected the Czech's "final" offer of territory and gave the Czechs until 6 p. m. to "come to terms." If they fail, a formal ultimatum was predicted.

2.—Hungarian extremists urged the government to use force to win its demands. An article, signed with the initials of Prime Minister Bela Imredy, appeared in a semi-official Budapest newspaper saying that Hungarians would win their demands "even if we have to do so with our bare hands."

3.—Poland, which is backing the Hungarian claims, was reported firmly to have asked the German government not to meddle in the crisis. Germany has indicated opposition to the Polish-Hungarian position, which however is supported by Italy.

4.—Czech foreign minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky arrived in Berlin for conferences on future Czech-German relations. One of the Czech representatives in negotiations with Hungary at this frontier town, Ferdinand Durcansky, returned from a hurried trip to Berlin which may have been a bid for German support.

The Hungarian delegation made a hurried trip to Budapest for new instructions before renewing talks with the Czechs here at the 6 p. m. deadline.

Similar to Sudeten

Meanwhile, the increasing reports of terrorism, which Czechs charged to Hungarians, made the outcome of the negotiations extremely doubtful. In many ways the terrorist activities resembled the outbreaks in the Sudetenland prior to its annexation by Germany.

Czech police encircled bands of terrorists, alleged to be Hungarians, in the Ruthenia district and reported that a Czech sergeant named Ondrej Ryba, was killed in fighting near Kvasy. Police investigation showed that the terrorist bands had appeared in strength during the last 48 hours and were organized on a military basis, the dispatches said.

The terrorists were equipped with foreign arms and munitions, according to official messages, and police discovered seven places where the weapons had been distributed. Dispatches from Bratislava said that alleged Hungarians creating disturbances in Slovakia were found to be well-armed, carrying revolvers, hand grenades and dynamite.

COOPERATION URGED FOR STATE HEALTH PROGRAM

Organization, aims and accomplishments of the State Department of Health were outlined by Dr. R. W. DeCrow, representative of the department, in an address before the Rotary club Thursday afternoon.

The physician presented figures to show the lives saved through the work of the department with a comparatively small expenditure of funds.

He appealed to the citizenry to take a greater interest in health departments of the city, county and state and lend their cooperation in programs to improve the general health conditions.

tance and instead adopt a course of public conduct that will promptly bring to our Ohio treasury this vast sum of federal money for immediate distribution to our needy aged citizens," the call said.

It was signed by six Franklin county representatives and two senators and sent to all members of the assembly, to Governor Davey, Welfare Director Margaret Allman, Pension Chief Wray Bevens, Finance Director M. Ray Allison, and the Social Security board.

The call expressed the hope that the legislators would demand a "collective, if only semi-official, consideration of this important legislative matter and its peaceful settlement" before Oct. 25 (when pension checks must be put in the mails).

The call was sent out as the Social Security board was reiterating its stand: that no federal pension money will be forthcoming to Ohio until the federal government receives assurance that the state pension division will be "cleaned up."

The appeal was signed by Reps. James F. Coady, A. Allen Holmes, Charles E. Justus, Jacob F. Myers, Robert J. Beatty and George F. Ketterer, and Senators George M. Morris and Francis F. Howard.

GRANGERS WIN MUSIC CONTEST

the result of hours of patient work under the leadership of Mrs. James Moffitt of Circleville. The contrast in the numbers was interesting and captivated the audience which was forbidden applause during the presentation of the selections of the choruses.

Voices Contrast

Miss Reber's sweet mezzo-soprano voice was enjoyed in her number showing in contrast to the full deep tones of Mr. Heffner's baritone. Great flexibility of voices was apparent in the last selection of the chorus.

The women of the Pickaway county chorus were dressed in white, each wearing a shoulder corsage of rose carnations, the men wore dark suits with white carnations. Miss Dorothy Glick of Washington grange played the piano accompaniments.

The judges for the evening included Prof. Ellis Snyder, Capital university College of Music; Miss Ollie Ater of Clarksburg and Miss Ruth Melvin of Wellston. Their decision brought a burst of applause from the audience.

Members of the winning chorus and their granges are Mrs. William Hegele, Miss Eleanor Dreisbach, Miss Doris Leist, Miss Rosemary Boggs, Weldon Leist and John Hegele, Logan Elm; Miss Pauline M. Shryock and Mrs. Roy Fraunfelter, Saltcreek Valley; Mrs. M. M. Bowman, Mrs. Arthur Leist, Miss Ruby Harris, Mrs. Thomas Heffner, Miss Margaret List, Thomas Heffner and Lawrence Warner, Washington; Misses Elizabeth and Ann Reber, Mr. Homer Reber, Mrs. Arthur Sark, Miss Metta Mae Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Huffer, Everett Beers, Hugh Huffer and the Rev. C. L. Thomas, Nebraska; Mrs. C. E. Beers, Scioto; Mrs. Herman Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, Ralph Fisher and C. H. Riegel, Scioto Valley.

George Snell of Summit Hill, Ross county deputy, spoke a few words in appreciation of the concert expressing regret in the absence of a chorus from his county. Vinton county, the other one of this group, was not represented.

Pickaway county chorus will enter a regional contest, the place to be announced later. A state contest will then be held, the most efficient chorus to sing at Farmers' Week, in February, at Columbus.

The next public appearance of Pickaway grange chorus will be Oct. 30 at Chillicothe Veterans' hospital when it will join with the Circleville American Legion Drum Corps in an afternoon concert.

The train was en route from Chicago to the Milwaukee road's Savanna, Ill., yards. The accident occurred in an isolated section, approximately five miles west of Elgin. Almora is a small farming community without police service and it was nearly two hours before word of the accident reached Elgin.

Peterson said all cars of the train except the two behind the tender remained on the track.

"It must have been a terrible explosion," he said. "We had a hard time finding the bodies."

ONTARIO FOREST FIRES BECOME MENACE AGAIN

Winds Create Dangerous Situation In Border District

DEATH TOLL NOW 21

3,000 C. C. C. Enrollees And W. P. A. Workers Aid In Struggle

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 13.—(UP)—A weary army in 5,000 fire-fighters battled to prevent brush and forest fires in the Minnesota-Ontario border region from spreading today as fresh winds caused the fires to flare up in half a dozen sections.

Authorities said the fires, which had raged for three days over 700 square miles, would go on another rampage if winds increase in velocity. Twenty-one persons already were known dead and others were reported missing.

The fire-fighters had all of the fires under control yesterday. But as winds freshened and humidity dropped, they called for additional equipment. Rangers said they would be able to control the fires under present conditions.

Situation Worse
"The situation is much worse," Ranger Vic Lofgren said. "The adverse weather conditions have caused fires to flare up in several vicinities but the crews are holding their own."

The situation throughout southern Ontario was described as "critical," with several hundred men fighting to keep a fire from spreading to a tourist and hunting district near Clearwater Lake.

Provincial police had evacuated 75 families from Dance township and along a 50-mile fire front North and West of Fort Frances.

Across the border in Minnesota, nearly 3,000 C.C.C. enrollees, W.P.A. workers and volunteers were fighting new blazes near Gemmell, Little Fork, and Ericsburg, Minn. Flames were threatening Summer homes and several resorts along Rainey lake on the boundary.

Both International Falls, Minn., and Fort Frances, threatened when the fire was at its worst three days ago, were believed out of danger.

Families Removed
Authorities believed all families had been evacuated from the endangered area but reports circulated that as many as 10 persons were still missing. Rescue parties continued their search through

Those Movie Kisses—They're in Three Parts!

Director Busby Berkeley

MOVIE kisses are divided into three parts, the "approach", the "kiss itself" and the "parting". So says Busby Berkeley, prominent director. With the assistance of several well-known film players, we show you what Mr. Berkeley means. The "approach", the director says, must be handled a little like a game of chess. The average audience wants to anticipate the kiss for a few seconds before it actually takes place. A surprise kiss, he says, loses half its screen value. The "kiss itself", Berkeley points out, must be left to the instincts and caprices of the kissers, just as in real life, but neither face must be distorted by camera angle. For the "parting", the kissers must break without being too disheveled, without lipstick on the man's face and without sound effects.

Dance township and adjoining region for additional victims.

Ontario police found the body of the twenty-first victim late yesterday. Seventeen of the victims were killed in Dance township. Many were women and children who were trapped by smoke and flames while fleeing from their homes.

IL DUCE LOSES 12,147 SOLDIERS IN SPANISH WAR

ROME, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Italian troop casualties in the Spanish civil war have totaled 12,147, it was announced today as Fascist Authorities prepared a jubilant welcome for an estimated 10,000 homecoming soldiers scheduled to reach Naples Oct. 20.

The casualties were classified as follows: killed: officers 227, enlisted men 2,430; died of disease: officers and men 278; total killed or died of disease 2,935. Made prisoner: officers three, men 351; total 354; wounded: officers 697; men 8,161; total 8,858. Grand total 12,147.

It was added that about 2,000 of the wounded were permanently crippled or invalidated.

(Italy's losses in the Ethiopian war totaled 2,313 native Italians killed, died of wounds or missing, according to reports. No figures are available for wounded.)

From the political aspect, it was indicated that Premier Benito Mussolini was not pleased with the effect of his repatriation order on Great Britain and France.

It seemed that Mussolini had hoped that when the British government learned he was bringing home 10,000 infantrymen, it would agree to put the British-Italian friendship agreement into force, and recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia. But British has shown no enthusiasm. The British government apparently insisted that Mussolini bring home far more than 10,000 soldiers.

Hog prices took a heavy drop on the Circleville livestock auction, Wednesday, with the top quotation 90 cents under last week's high.

Good to choice hogs sold from $7.40 to $7.60 this week as compared with $8.25 to $8.50 for the same grades last week. Harry J. Briggs service manager for the Farm Bureau, said the increase in receipts of all markets, coupled with the usual price reductions in October, caused the prices to slide downward.

Top on light hogs was $7.55 as compared with $8.30 last week. Ten pure bred Hampshire hogs, lacking 12 days of being six months old, were sold by G. M. Newton, Washington township, for $7.55 per hundredweight. The hogs averaged 236 pounds. All were from the same litter.

Good to choice cattle sold from $9.40 to $10.05, and medium to good $6.50 to $8.25. No choice cattle had been listed the previous week.

Luncheon Conference To Be

Many Outstanding Men To
Speak At Pastors' Meet
Jan. 30-Feb. 2

Returning from a meeting of the International Relations Committee of the Ohio Council of Churches, the Rev. T. C. Harper announced that ministers of Pickaway county will be invited to a luncheon conference in Circleville next month to discuss plans for study of international problems in the local churches.

An outside speaker will be assigned as discussion leader for the meeting, according to plans for a series of 80 such county conferences over the state, which were made by the committee in Columbus.

Meeting in local churches, arranged by the respective pastors, to enlist increased interest of laymen in present problems of international relations, will follow the county-wide meeting of clergymen, leaders of the movement hope.

For Peace Movement

"It was brought out at our meeting in Columbus that the purpose of this state-wide program is not to conduct propaganda for any specific peace movement, but rather encourage reading and study on international affairs, with a view to better understanding of the world situation," the Rev. Mr. Harper explained.

Twenty Ohio clergymen who have studied questions of peace and international relations will give about one week each to the leadership of county conferences like the one being arranged here.

The Rev. Mr. Harper attended a meeting of the program committee for the Ohio Pastors' conference which will hold its twentieth session in Columbus, Jan. 30, to Feb. 2. The committee is trying to secure many of the outstanding religious leaders of the country for this meeting. Speakers already scheduled include Dr. Ralph Sockman of New York, Dr. Ross Stover and Rabbi Louis Wolsey of Philadelphia.

SEEN ALONG FIFTH AVENUE

GRACIOUS dinner dresses are reported to be among the best-sellers along fashion avenue. A slim black crepe frock, with long, tight sleeves, has a simulated bolero suggested by graduated rows of silver bangle and crystal beads. The cuffs and the hem are marked by the same trimming. Then there is another handsome gown of sapphire blue velvet, sprinkled with gold. Padded rolls of the fabric give a high shoulder effect. A narrow band of the fabric forms the collar. The bodice is low waisted. The skirt has a slight train in back. Black silk jersey is used for some slim, draped dinner gowns that are most becoming to the slender figure.

To Stop Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation's got you down so you feel heavy, tired and doxy — it's time you did something about it. And something more than taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat only the things most people do, the chances are that a very simple fact causes your constipation—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, eat crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran contains both "bulk" and the intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁. And it's not a drug, not a medicine! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU— BY BOB BURNS

The best way to appreciate our country is to compare it with some of the others. Those military countries take every available young man and put him in the army and teach him to fight. They almost have to have a war because the men are not trained to do anything else. This country has an army too but it's an army of workers.

I know one fella over here who applied for a job as an artist model. The artist said, "This is a gruelin' job. You have to stand in one position for hours. Do you think you can do it?" The man says, "That'll be a cinch for me—I've been workin' on a government job for sixteen months!"

Sportsmen Put Approval On New State Program

Arrival of 15 raccoon for distribution throughout Pickaway county caused an early adjournment of the meeting of the Pickaway Farmer's and Sportsman's association Wednesday night.

Clarence Francis, conservation officer, asked the help of sportsmen in releasing the raccoon.

The association approved a fifteen-point program sponsored by the League of Ohio Sportsmen, comprised of various sportsmen's clubs of the state. The Pickaway county organization is a member of the league.

Program Listed

The program includes: 1. The development of a definitely planned long time conservation program in Ohio; 2. The teaching of conservation in the schools; 3. The preservation of shorelines on streams and lakes for the use of the public, particularly with reference to new bodies of water; 4. State purchase of land along lakes and streams for conservation and recreation purposes; 5. The development of an adequate system of state parks, including parks on shores of Lake Erie; 6. A continuous reforestation program, both on submarginal lands and along lakes and streams; 7. An adequate soil conservation program, with especial reference to agricultural lands; 8. An adequate water conservation program, including stream development, flood control and the creation of artificial lakes and reservoirs; 9. An effectual program to solve the problem of stream pollution; 10. A program to bring about a wider appreciation of the kindred interests of farmers and sportsmen; 11. The encouragement of a program to cooperate with agriculture in the cultivation of game through the use of natural habitat; 12. Extension of the game management program to every county in the state on a basis comparable to the county agricultural agent system; 13. The creation of national parks in Ohio amounting to a minimum of a million acres; 14. Legislation on a constitutional amendment to take conservation out of politics, and 15. The use of conservation funds for conservation purposes. The association has raised and released 535 pheasants in the county this year.

Extension agents from 14 Ohio counties, specialists from Ohio State University, and state club leaders recently spent three days in the first 4-H Club Workshop figuring ways and means of strengthening future club programs for Ohio's 55,000 members.

HEBRON CHURCH TO CELEBRATE LONG SERVICE

Rev. P. A. Harlan Directs
Congregation In Its
Centennial Rites

SUPERINTENDENT TO TALK

Early History Recalled By
Pastor; Morning, Afternoon
Programs Planned

The Hebron Methodist Episcopal church of the Derby-Darbyville charge will celebrate its 100th anniversary next Sunday, Oct. 16, with special services morning and afternoon. Sunday school will be conducted at 9:30 in the morning, followed by public worship at 10:30. Dr. Ira Jones, district superintendent, will preach the morning service.

The Rev. P. A. Harlan is the church's pastor.

A basket dinner will be served at noon preceding the afternoon program which will begin at 1:30 or 2 o'clock. The Rev. R. T. Stimmel, pastor of the Mt. Sterling church, and former minister will speak. There will be special music.

All the members, former members and friends of the Hebron church are invited to attend.

Official Members Meet
At the close of the afternoon program an important business meeting of the official members of the Derby-Darbyville charge will be held with the Rev. Mr. Jones presiding.

According to the "History of Franklin and Pickaway Counties," published about 1880, Hebron church was organized at the beginning of the nineteenth century "composed in part by the following persons: John Porter and wife, Severen Maddux and wife, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Catherine Richey, Mrs. Eleanor Thomas, several of the Hays and Reeves families, and others, whose names are forgotten. Meetings were held in the log dwellings of the settlers for a time, and subsequently, in the little log schoolhouse near Foster's. The Revs. Joseph Hays and William Morrow were perhaps the first circuit preachers on this charge which was attached to Deer Creek circuit."

The present meeting-house was built as early as 1838 and is, without doubt, the first church edifice built in Monroe township, according to church members.

For more than 40 years Hebron has been part of the Derbyville charge and during that time the following pastors have served there:

The tire industry is represented in the "time capsule" sunk by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., at the 1939 New York World's Fair, with a section of a modern safety tire prepared by the Fisk Rubber Corporation, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

The inscription on the back of the section reads: "In 1939, 100 years after the discovery of the vulcanization of rubber, the safest automobile tire manufactured consisted of a cover or tread of rubber containing a substantial portion of carbon black, supported by multiple layers of cotton cords, insulated from each other by layers of rubber. The tire served as a protector for a thin rubber air container. The tread portion was rendered flexible by the insertion of cross strips of white rubber, providing increased traction."

The "capsule," buried beneath the site of the Westinghouse building, contains a resume of modern civilization. It is not to be opened for 5,000 years. Clues to its location will be mentioned in books placed in libraries throughout the world.

In tribute to unbiased engineers and Safti-Flight Tires Cussins and Fearn are displaying in their window a cross section picture of this capsule.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

THIS is the time to build and buy. A building expert says:

"A modern house, complete with modern accessories, can be built today for 11 percent less than a house of the same size in 1926, usually considered a normal year. That is, the $5,810 house of 1926 can be duplicated today for $4,825.

"It would also be built of improved materials and contain such home improvements as automatic heat, grade-marked lumber and other features undreamed of years ago."

Building materials are down 5 to 22 percent, the biggest reduction being in heating and plumbing.

The same arguments can be made for the furniture and general equipment of a house. Nearly everything, since the depression, is better and cheaper than it was before, and there are many things formerly unobtainable.

In these respects the depression might be said to have been a good thing for the country. It forced people to improve nearly everything, and to find good substitutes for expensive things that could not be improved. Never, perhaps, has the nation made such progress in industrial and commercial resourcefulness as in the last nine years.

AFTER THE HISSES

SOME patrons of American movie theatres have been heard to hiss lately when pictures of Hitler appeared on the screen. It may be a natural expression of the dislike and distrust in which the system he has created is held in this country, but it isn't a very useful gesture. It doesn't annoy Hitler because he doesn't hear it, and it doesn't do anything constructive about combating, here and now, the Nazism, Fascism and Communism which most Americans lump as equally bad alien evils.

If the news reels showing foreign statesmen and foreign armies are of anything more than passing entertainment for us, they should make us consider thoughtfully the reasons why we don't like those foreign isms and inquire how we really feel about democracy. What are its flaws and weaknesses? How can we correct them? What are its good qualities, and how can we strengthen them?

We are reluctant to fight any foreign people with military weapons, but we must fight democracy's enemies with something. A better understood and more effectively practised democracy is the best weapon at hand.

Radio has transformed this country musically, but there's still too much yelling and ballyhooing.

Fortunately most of our American minorities are not yet demanding plebiscites.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up with a mind overrunning with wonder at the ways of some modern schools. "Everyday Problems of American Democracy" is the title of a textbook that has been introduced into some of our institutions of learning. Thank goodness, it is not on our high school list. One section of the book is given over to discussion of "Why Democracy Is Not the Best Form of Government." Of course, arguments also are advanced in favor of Democracy.

How would you like for your boy or girl to read such rot as the following, presented as the considered thought of men of great learning:

"Democracy is wrong in theory because it is based upon the proposition that all people are equal. Unfortunately some people are better equipped physically and mentally than others. Some have better opportunity to acquire education and so can better make the most of their innate ability. In a democracy all are given an equal share in government irrespective of their ability to assume the necessary responsibilities.

"LIBERTY BECOMES LICENCE.—In a democracy one hears more about the rights of the people than duties. Many persons have the idea that liberty means freedom from restraint. The individual who is told time and time again that the republic will not permit his rights to be violated gets the idea that he can do as he pleases. He resents any attempt at restraint, and lawlessness and crime result.

"PEOPLE DO NOT DESIRE DEMOCRACY.—Mussolini said that the great mass of the people do not desire to govern themselves so long as they are governed. This idea is borne out by the fact that in presidential elections only 50 percent, and in local elections 33 percent, of the qualified voters bother to vote.

"CONCLUSION.—Dictatorship governments are best because they can act quickly, and government is in the hands of the most capable. Graft is eliminated and order is maintained. Democracy is basically unsound because all men are not equal; the majority is not capable of governing itself."

Maybe, as the educated authors declare, the average American can not think without splitting infinitives or inventing verbs, but he has enough brains to realize that the totalitarian state is most certainly something he does not wish. Likewise he does not wish that propaganda such as outlined above be instilled in the minds of his children. That textbook worked its way into some Ohio schools. It might have worked its way into our local high school. Think that over.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN.

FDR FEELS PROPOSAL TWISTED

WASHINGTON — No one around the White House is saying much about it, but the President's feeling toward Chamberlain, Mussolini and Hitler is a degree less than luke-warm these days.

His feeling for Hitler and Mussolini has been frigid for a good many months, but the lower temperature toward Chamberlain comes of his belief that the Prime Minister lent himself to the perversion of Roosevelt's proposal of a general European conference, so that it degenerated into a secret sell-out of small democracies.

Though it was not made public at the time, Roosevelt's proposal to Hitler, telegraphed just before the Munich conference, envisaged a meeting of eight or more powers, including Russia and Czechoslovakia, two countries vitally concerned.

This idea was communicated to Chamberlain and to Mussolini, and it was understood that Chamberlain approved it. Instead he concurred in the twisting of Roosevelt's proposal into a four-power private deal.

SIMPLE TASTES

Answer of a prominent foreign diplomat stationed in Washington when asked if he knew Hitler: "Yes, I am acquainted with him. He is a man of simple tastes. He is easily satisfied — if he can have everything he wants."

WALLACE'S RESHUFFLE

What most people missed in connection with Secretary Wallace's reshuffle of the Agriculture Department was that it fits into the pattern of the Reorganization Bill, and indicates the White House intention of pushing that bill to passage.

One of the first principles of the Brownlow Report—basis of the Reorganization Bill—was that private lands should come under Agriculture, and public lands under Interior.

In the Wallace reshuffle, all activities directly related to the farmer have been nailed down beyond chance of transfer to his Cabinet colleague, Harold Ickes. But other functions of the Department have been left flapping in the breeze. For example, no provision for the Forest Service has been made in the new plan, despite the historic fight between Agriculture and Interior over its control. This service is not connected with private farm lands, but with public lands.

F. A. Silcox, Chief of the Forest Service, has long resisted the transfer to the Interior Department, and last year declined Secretary Ickes' offer of an Assistant Secretaryship if he would switch allegiance. Now it looks as if the Silcox agency is fated for transfer anyway.

The same is true of Public Roads, in which Wallace has no active interest. Still another agency left out is the Pure Food and Drugs Administration, an orphan child of the Department.

Wallace stands ready to sacrifice an orphan or two, but the AAA has been safely folded into the family bosom and its name written down in the family Bible.

Sensitive Americans who dislike "politics" might remedy this evil by moving to authoritarian countries. They have no such squabbles. A dictator just tells people what to do, and they do it.

SERVICE a la CARTE

DIET AND HEALTH

Circulatory System And Its Mechanism

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN THE Century of Progress Building of the Chicago Exposition of a year or two ago there was a glass figure in the form of the human body, and all the organs, blood vessels and nerves could be seen through the body walls. There was, however, one feature of the anatomical curiosity which made it entirely different from real life. There was no movement.

If a living human being could suddenly be arranged so that all his tissues were transparent, we would be struck first of all by the incessant movement and commotion going on. Most of this would be due to the movements of the circulatory system. The heart would be pumping blood out of its two chambers, one chamber expanding the lungs every second with a fresh burst of blood, the other side shooting blood into all the throbbing arteries of the body.

Distributes Food

We would see the blood corpuscles rapidly moving and crowding out of the arteries into the capillaries and gradually slowing their movements when they enter the veins, and still more slowly making their way back to the heart again. It is this system which is essential for the distribution of food and oxygen and the many other things the body cells need. In our outline of the function of the body in the articles during the last few weeks, we started with the digestive system because that prepares the food so it can be utilized for energy. Then we took up the respiratory system, which brings into the body the oxygen which burns the food. Later we discussed the blood system, which is the medium in which both these are carried to the cells.

Now we come to the circulatory system, which pumps the blood around and distributes the material to all parts of the body.

Goes in Circle

Circulation comes from a Latin word which means to move in a circle. Accordingly, we must follow the blood in its circle in order to understand the process fully. There are four chambers in the heart, the main ones being the ventricles, which are hollow muscular organs. From the left one the blood is pumped out first into the arteries and then through the capillaries. In the capillaries it gives up food and oxygen to the cells and takes up waste products, returning to the right ventricle by way of the veins. The right ventricle pumps the blood out to the lungs, where a number of waste products are removed. After returning to the left ventricle, completing the circle, the cycle begins anew.

Besides the systemic and lung circulation there is a third circulation, or one usually counted as such, in the circulation through the liver. All the food products are absorbed in the intestine and most of them are carried by the portal vein directly to the liver. They are left there for the liver to prepare them for reception by the tissues, and the blood moves on into the right side of the heart.

Another important point in the circulation is the kidney unit where waste products are removed.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

REPEATED DOUBLES

WHEN YOU HAVE heard nothing but ordinary passes from your partner, your doubling at the first opportunity will be interpreted as a request for action from him. If the next player bids and your associate passes, your second double is a still more urgent request for action. Most good players treat repeated doubles as still informative up to the range of bids of three.

Two different contracts resulted from this deal in a team-of-four match. The bidding was exactly the same at both tables up to a certain point.

East and South passed and West opened with 1-Heart, which North doubled. East put in a 1-Spade bid and South passed again. After 2-

Hearts by West, North doubled again and East bid 2-Spades. South passed and West called 3-Hearts. North injected another double, over which East bid 3-Spades.

At the table where the contract was played there, the East player was able to make it. The lead by South was the heart 8, which was taken in dummy with the A and the diamond 5 discarded. Declarer lost two trumps and two clubs.

The South player at the other table came to life after his partner's third double and put in a 4-Diamond bid which the opponents did not dispute.

CHAPTER 41

IN THE BANK, in Judy's name, there still reposed the money, untouched, which her father had deposited to her credit. She had refused to accept the bankbook which belonged to the account. She had written no checks against it.

But now the man she loved was in danger, and pride was a foolish barrier to any help that she could give him. With money he could trace the mysterious man in the green fedora and plaid coat. With money—with a bitter shadow across the smooth oval of her face because money that should be so unimportant had such power to save, protect, or destroy, she said: "If you want me to take the money still, I think it might buy lots of things I'd like."

Lots of things—Ronald's good name. His belief in humanity. His vision recaptured. The reward for which he had sacrificed in the lean, hungry years. Lots of things! Things of which her father and Mr. Heaton had no knowledge—for they had not come up through tribulation.

With the bankbook and a checkbook in her handbag, Judy hailed a taxicab and went to the court-house. It took a little while to discover in which room Ronald's case was being tried. He was speaking as she looked through a crack in the door. An attendant motioned to her to come in, sit quietly, not interfere with the normal procedure of justice in the courts of the land. Justice! It was a misused word. She wanted to laugh and she was going to cry. But all she did, finally, was shake her head, give the bailiff a watery smile, and stand by the green brass-studded door as the case droned on.

How would she present the money? Would she be able to persuade Ronald that it was a friendly loan such as she would make to any friend in a crucial moment? He would reject a gift, but a loan was so different! It was purely a business proposition. A business proposition, prompted by love, but he must never know that. If he did, then he would push it from him firmly and go alone to seek his enemy. She must be gay, nonchalant, pretending that the trouble would be rooted soon and they would laugh together.

But what if he said: "Suppose I lose, Judy? What then? I can't pay you back for years!" Then she would say: "But that's all right. Can't friends make gifts? What is friendship worth?"

And all of the time she would be repeating over and over in her heart, like you said silly rhymes that stuck and wouldn't go away:

"Ronald, I love you, I love you! Don't pay me back! Let me do this for you, just this! Because never again in the world will there be a time when I can help you."

Court adjourned. Ronald spoke to the judge a moment, picked up his brief case and hat from a nearby chair, and started through an inner door. She had thought he would use the main entrance. She did not know where the small door, through which he was passing, led, but she ran after him.

Someone called to her as she opened the gate that led to the small enclosure where witnesses waited to be summoned. She pretended that she did not hear. He was swinging down a dim corridor ahead of her. She called him.

He turned, waited, saw who it was that trailed him, and spoke in surprise: "Judy! Where did you come from?"

Now that she was here it seemed ridiculous, just as her errand of mercy had appeared a few nights ago when she had brought him news of the slight, short man in the rakish fedora.

"I've turned detective and I've unearthed some more news," she said in a voice whose calmness amazed her.

His grin was boyish and young. "I was thinking about you, Judy. I thought I'd call you up. In fact I was cutting through here to get to a pay telephone."

She must not use these words as bait for her heart. Her status had not changed. Deserted by the girl he loved, Ronald had sought a friend, that was all.

"Where shall we go?" he asked as simply as a trusting child.

Judy choked on the lump of compassion that welled up in her throat, so it was a moment before she could answer. In the interim he signaled a taxicab, helped her in, sank down in a corner.

"It's great to be alone," he said. "Mind not talking for a minute? I want to enjoy this—you, the cab, the peace."

The brakes screeched dangerously as he spoke, the car began to skid, and stopped with such a jolt that it threw Judy against him.

"The peace . . ." she echoed, laughing tremulously. Then the laughter died for Ronald's hand had seized hers and was holding it tightly. She felt a tremor pass down his arm, the fingers loosened.

But as he put her hand back, he said: "Don't go away, Judy."

Away? Oh, that was the silent prayer with which she had been beseeching him.

"Where would I go?" she asked aloud.

"Back to your old world—to parties and balls and the Court of St. James, to Cannes and Monte Carlo and Newport."

"Can't do it. The gates are all locked and I've dumped the keys in the river. I like my new address better."

"That's what I hoped you would say."

"But what about you, Ronald? Can you prove your story soon?"

His face was not worried as he smiled at her. "I may not be able to prove it at all."

"But you're not frightened?"

He laughed. "What is there to fear? If I've been thrown a foul ball, well, the next time the batter may do better. Cheer up, Judy. I'm not licked yet."

"You may be asked to leave the firm," she said slowly.

"No, Judy, they won't have a chance to ask me. I sent my resignation by special delivery, registered mail, just before I went into court so Mr. Heaton won't have that embarrassment. He's really a good old scout—"

"But you shouldn't, Ronald! Don't you see, they'll take it as an evidence of guilt!" She shook her head swiftly.

"Honey, quiet down. Mr. Heaton's been kind to me. I'm not going to share the legal embarrassment over this scrap with him. It's my fight. I'll win—but I won't ask my friends to make faint applause when the joust looks fearful."

His chin was stubborn again. His long, hard body was tense. He spoke with added vigor, tossing away the moment of surrender to fatigue.

"Here is one friend who won't be qualified." Now she must tell him of the money.

She heard the patter of snow on the top of the cab, saw the play of red and green where the traffic lights swung their gaudy signals, smelled fish and salt air and noted for the first time that the cab was speeding along the wharves.

The window which divided the cab driver's seat from the passenger compartment was not quite closed. So she said:

"Ronald, will you ask the driver to pull up the partition, please?"

"Cold?" he asked, as he presented her request.

"No, but I want to talk confidentially." She opened her handbag. If she had the tangible evidence of that bankbook to which to cling, it would be easier to talk. Her fingers closed over something that cracked—the envelope with the letters of the alphabet which Coralee's father had made for her.

Oh, what a detective she was! What a perfectly glorious flop as a helper and an aid. She had forgotten her most important news for the moment. Forgotten it because Ronald had held her hand as though he never, never wanted to let it go.

He was looking at her with interest, waiting for her to speak.

The jacket of this suit is in burgundy heavy woolen with yoke, pocket flaps and skirt in cyclamen and burgundy checked plaid woolen. Little tucks radiate from the yoke and pockets. Worn with it is a burgundy sweater. It is perfect for the business girl or back-to-college wardrobe.

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, October 13
MUCH PROGRESS and satisfaction are read from this day's side-real operations, with much activity and keen interest in both old and new projects. There may be very lucrative new contracts or agreements, in which initiative, acumen or shrewdness will gain objectives, especially with "big business" associates.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year of whirling activity. Old as well as new matters are under high impetus and should bring to bear much talent, sagacity and shrewdness in handling perplexing situations leading toward desired objectives.

A child born on this day may be highly intellectual, alert, keen and of impressive personality, which will attract the co-operation of elders and those in high standing.

MEXICAN ARMY FEARS TROUBLE IN SONORA AREA

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Mex., Oct. 13—(UP)—

Federal troops patrolled the city hall Plaza today fearing a new political outbreak after the fatal shooting of Horacio Clark, red-headed leader of a coup last March against Presidente (Mayor) Martin S. Burgueno and Arturo Mendoza, secretary-treasurer of Agua Prieta.

Mendoza, charged with Clark's shooting, was arrested several hours later by municipal authorities.

Police Chief Rufino Mendez said the shooting resulted from personal hatred and Clark's repeated efforts to oust the Burgueno-Mendoza political faction.

Clark, of English-Mexican parentage, and Mendoza met last night in the Monterey bar, a night club owned by Burgueno. Hot words followed and the pair crossed the street to a service station where each drew a gun. Witnesses said Mendoza shot Clark once over the heart then fled.

The administration of President Burgueno, together with Gov. Roman Yocupicio of Sonora state, reportedly was aligned against Mexican army officers.

Frankfort Bringing Fast Team To Circleville; Lineups About Set

The stage was set today and the contestants were ready for the football game Friday night between Circleville high school's varsity and the one representing Frankfort. The contest will start at 8 o'clock under the lights of school field with Walter Rosenthal and Ray Coleman, of Capital University and Ohio Wesleyan respectively, as officials.

The Tigers, defeated in their first three games, are hopeful of entering the victory column for the first time despite Frankfort's 6-6 tie with Washington C. H. and 35-0 victory over the Chillicothe reserves. The invaders are fast and may pull a surprise, but Coaches Roy Black and Tom Armstrong have been working their charges diligently in blocking and tackling assignments and hope to return the victor.

No lineup changes are contemplated by the Tiger mentors although several youths not counted as first stringers so far this year have been putting up battles for positions and may get into the fray at an early time.

The starting lineups are expected to look like this:

Circleville	Frankfort
Jackson L. E.	Bayless
Hill L. T.	Ragland
Ardelle L. G.	McQuinniff
Nelson C.	Shuster
Hays R. G.	Bateman
Rooney R. T.	George
Heffner R. E.	Jones
Walters Q.	Francis
Stebbleton L. H.	Wright
Noggle R. H.	Adams

'BAMA, GOPHERS MAY NOT MEET IN 'POST' TILT

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 13—(UP)—Coach Frank Thomas of the University of Alabama today doubted possibility of a football game this fall between his Crimson Tide and the University of Minnesota for the benefit of New England storm sufferers.

Thomas said as far as he knew nothing had been done concerning Gov. Bigg Graves suggestion that such a game be arranged. He explained that both teams had full schedules for the rest of the season.

Richard C. Foster, University of Alabama president, said officials of the Western conference, to which Minnesota belongs, had indicated they believed the plan unfeasible.

DUROCHER, NEW DODGER BOSS, AT FATHER'S BIER

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 13—(UP)—Leo (Lippy) Durocher, newly appointed manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, came here today to attend the funeral of his father, George. While Durocher's appointment as pilot of the Brooklyn National league baseball club was not made public until yesterday, "Lippy" had known about it since the World Series began in Chicago, and his father had received the good news before he died on Monday.

PLACEMENT ON FINAL PLAY WINS FOR BOSTON TEAM

BOSTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—A place kick made on the final play gave Boston college a 9-6 victory over University of Detroit's football team in a Columbus day game played before a crowd of 22,000 here. Fella Gintoff booted the deciding goal from the nine yard line. Detroit took the lead on a first period touchdown by Ed Palumbo and held it until the fourth when Pete Cignetti scored for Boston.

Five-Man Line Gaining Favor In Ohio Schools

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13—(UP)—As the Ohio scholastic gridiron campaign approaches the half-way mark, the spread of the five-man line in its many variations for defensive purposes today ranked as one of the most significant trends in high school football strategy.

Taking a leaf from their older university and college brethren, the prep school coaches are re-arranging their proteges to strengthen defenses against the growing threat of aerial attacks.

While the trend is not universal, several coaches, among them notably the veteran "Pop" Warner at Dayton Fairmont, use the five-man forward wall almost exclusively when the other team has the ball.

Warner probably has given the new maneuver more novel treatment than any of the others. His strategy depends on lightning-quick interchanges by his players from five to six or seven-man formations as the occasion demands.

While Warner's Fairmont clubs have taken it on the chin some this season, Coach Ike Trubey has used the five-man line with success at Fostoria where his eleven is undefeated in four games. The five-man formation stopped the touted Fremont passing game lead last Friday as Fostoria triumphed, 38 to 0.

North Undefeated

Columbus North, another undefeated, untied eleven, has also employed the five-man line to great advantage in its early games. The Polar Bears, current Columbus leaders, will need all their strategy this week to turn back Columbus South, tied once, in a game that may decide the city championship.

Fostoria's Redmen should have an easier time with Lima South at Fostoria. Designation as the high school gridiron classic for the week, and possibly for the season, goes to the Massillon-Alliance clash Friday night at Alliance. Both undefeated and untied, the Tigers and Aviators put two high-scoring, fast-stepping outfits on the field.

Massillon, defending state champions, rolled up 110 points and allowed 34 in defeating McKeesport, Pa.; Mansfield, Warren and Sharon, Pa. The Aviators, featuring the super-sensation Hillis Hume, who alone has tallied 17 touchdowns has scored 178 points and allowed 13. Its victims were Newton Falls, Kent Roosevelt, Grove City, Pa., and Youngstown Wilson. Hume celebrated his 16th birthday last week with four touchdowns in less than a quarter against Youngstown Wilson.

Another prize contest shapes up when Portsmouth, undefeated, and untied, invades Chillicothe, victim of last week's biggest upset. The heavy Trojans were favored to win but the Cavaliers may spring an upset on their home grounds.

Among other top-light games this week are Cleveland Rhodes at Marion Harding, New Philadelphia at East Liverpool, Elmira, N. Y., at Canton McKinley, Mansfield at Sandusky, Akron West at Elyria, Norwalk at Galion and Ironton versus Hamilton.

Dr. J. Ira Jones, of Columbus, superintendent of the Chillicothe district of the Methodist church, was the speaker. Dr. Jones discussed the important part the churches play in checking undesirable propaganda both within a country and from outside sources.

The Rev. A. J. Wilson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Commercial Point, gave the invocation. The welcome was offered by R. A. Francis, superintendent of the Scioto township school. Brief remarks on brotherhood benefits were made by Mr. Plum, the secretary-treasurer. A cornet solo was presented by Don Neal.

75 CAPITAL STUDENTS TO PRESENT PAGEANT

A cast of over 75 Capital university students will be featured in one of the country's most unique dramatic productions when the mammoth pageant drama "Martin Luther, Protestant" is presented at Sandusky, on Sunday, Oct. 16. The pageant will be presented as a special feature of the national convention of the American Lutheran church which convenes in the Lake Erie city at that time.

"Martin Luther, Protestant" was originally presented four years ago in Columbus at Capital university, but so widely was it acclaimed that not only has it been given in Columbus seven times, but it has played request engagements at Detroit, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and now Sandusky.

The huge cast is headed by Prof. William C. Craig, director of speech at Capitol, and a veteran of the stage. Mr. Craig plays the role of Martin Luther. The remainder of the cast includes students and professors of the Columbus university.

When the pageant is given in Sandusky, Anna Marie Fellmeth of Circleville will be a member of the technical staff. Miss Fellmeth is the daughter of Mrs. R. P. Fellmeth, 135 Union street.

New Coiffure for Milady

ATTENTION, milady! How's this for a smart new coiffure? It is an interesting version of the new swept-up hair dress. The hair is parted in the center and swept up from either temple to a mass of soft curls on the top of the head. The hair at the back of the crown is parted from ear to ear, the top hairbrushed up to the front of the head, while the lower part is brushed softly down and caught at the neckline with a jeweled pin.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

Bringing to the screen another vivid and glamorous chapter taken from the history of the old West, Universal's new romantic drama, "Outlaw Express" comes to the Grand theatre Friday and Saturday.

Starring Bob Baker, and featuring

ing that flashing Spanish beauty and newcomer to the screen, Cecilia Callejo, the picture is staged in a gorgeous manner. In addition to the new songs of the range that will be presented by Baker, Miss Callejo is introduced in one of her famous specialty dances.

The story goes back to 1860, in the days when pony express riders were carrying the mails from California to the Missouri borderline, thence to go all the way East by means of train.

"Time Out For Murder", with Michael Whalen and Gloria Stuart, is on the screen, too.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Movie audiences are due for three big surprises when they see their favorite stars in Paramount's new romantic fiesta, "Tropic Holiday," which opens Friday at the Cliftona Theatre. Bob Burns, the favorite son of Arkansas, quits the state he has made famous and becomes a Senatorial candidate from Oklahoma. Hilarious Martha Raye comes down to earth as the secretary to a screen author and the elusive sweetheart of Burns, and Dorothy Lamour, trades her sarong for the gay native costumes of southern Mexico.

Ray Milland, heading the cast as the Hollywood writer who tries to "get away from it all" in the tropics, has a "straight" role, reminiscent of the one he played so

A. F. OF L. NEARS CONCLUSION OF ITS CONVENTION

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 13—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor's 58th convention entered its final stages today, committed to demand broad reforms in New Deal labor laws but checked by a zero-hour rebellion from condemning President Roosevelt's policies as "socialistic."

Delegates meet to hear reports of adjustments of jurisdictional disputes. At 2:30 p. m. will come reelection of officers, with San Francisco holding a good chance to get the next convention. President William Green will conclude the meeting Friday noon.

A strong New Deal bloc in the federation's two most powerful units—the Building Trades and the Metal Trades departments—led a revolt yesterday against a resolutions committee report which they considered a drastic indictment of President Roosevelt and the administration.

Shunted back to the executive council for "further study," the report assailed steady expansion of governmental control over the nation's workers and industry as "socialistic," and appealed to business and finance to cooperate with labor to stop such a trend.

successfully in "Easy Living." He comes to Mexico to forget the movies and stays with Miss Lamour to forget the world, forsaking even his Hollywood sweetheart, blonde and lovely Binnie Barnes.

The comedy highlight of "Tropic Holiday" is Martha Raye's bullfight which she bravely undertakes for the love of Bob Burns, the bombastic would-be-Senator from Oklahoma. For this unusual act Martha trained under one of Mexico's foremost bullfighters, imported from his native country to teach the star all the tricks of his trade.

AT THE CIRCLE

Jiggs, the monkey, shares the comedy honors with Lynne Overman, rubber-faced comedian in the new Paramount Technicolor production, "Her Jungle Love," starring Dorothy Lamour, the original song girl of "The Jungle Princess" and Ray Milland, currently showing at the Circle Theatre. Milland's romance with Miss Lamour provides a thrilling background for this new natural color picture, filmed amid scenes of rare beauty never before seen on the screen.

There is no word in the Eskimo language for lamb. So, when the Bible was translated into Eskimo, it was necessary to substitute the words "baby seal" wherever the word lamb appeared in the text.

Dies To Probe Sitdown Strikes; Plant Reopens

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—(UP)—The plant of the Motors Product company reopened today after having been closed by a sit-down strike while Chairman Dies, D. Tex., of the house un-American activities committee, returned to Washington to begin an investigation of all sit-down strikes of recent years.

The workers, members of the United Automobile Workers, a C. I. O. affiliate, evacuated the plant last night after their leaders had conferred most of the day with company officials. The 2,000 sit-down strikers had barricaded the plant.

POST INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

Installation of new officers of Howard Hall post, American Legion, was held Wednesday evening. William Betts, Jr., past commander and recently elected treasurer, was the installing officer. Seventeen members attended the meeting.

The new officers, in addition to Mr. Betts, are Karl J. Herrmann, commander; Lorin Dudson, first vice commander; D. A. Yates, second vice commander; James Shea, adjutant; James Cook, chaplain; Ralph Schumm and Joseph Lynch, members of the executive committee, and Howard Anderson and John Goodchild, sergeants at arms. Mr. Yates is the retiring commander.

Meeting of the executive committee will be held in the near future to work out plans for an Armistice Day program.

FARM SECRETARY TO TOUR STATE FOR ADDRESSES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace will visit Ohio the latter part of this month in the course of a political campaign tour through the Middle West.

According to his plans today, Wallace will address informal political meetings in Ohio but dates and places have not yet been arranged.

His tour will take him also into Iowa, South Dakota, Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania. The first address, of a non-political character, will be made at Springfield, Ill., Friday. He will move west from there, presumably visiting Ohio points on the return trip east.

Homer Martin, president of the union, announced that the agreement had been reached whereby grievances would be held over for later negotiation while the plant operated and a new contract was being drawn. He said the strike was called because the company had not recalled workers according to their seniority, that it had cut wages in a number of instances because of the installation of new machinery, and had refused to negotiate on these grievances. The company said it had not been notified of the strike nor its causes before it took place.

Mosier in Detroit Dies, before leaving for Washington last night, announced that his committee would begin a general inquiry into sitdown strikes in Washington next week. He had conducted hearings here for two days and Rep. Mosier, D., Ohio, remained behind to conduct more, but, Dies said, the charges that the sitdown strikes were engineered by Communists on orders from Moscow, were too broad to be conducted from one sectional point. He said that witnesses and committee investigators connected with sitdown strikes in other sections would be called.

Several times during the course of the days of hearings, the sitdown strikes in the automotive industry were alluded to by witnesses, but Dies steered the testimony to other channels, saying that the matter would be entered into later.

William Gernaey, 35, yesterday's principal witness, said that he was a former member of the Communist party and had been instructed by political superiors to join a labor union and "bore from within."

HONG KONG, Oct. 13.—(UP)—The American gunboat Mindanao and three British gunboats may be trapped in the Pearl river at Canton during the Japanese South China drive, it was feared today. British naval authorities received information that the Chinese intended to throw an obstructive boom across the river today, to keep out Japanese warships.

Above the place where the boom would be constructed are the Mindanao and the British gunboats Cicala, Moth and Tarantula. Four boatloads of refugees arrived from Canton today, including 30 foreign women and children of whom 12 were Americans. Sixty Japanese war planes, "eyes" of Japan's new South China army, bombed railroads and highways between Hong Kong and Canton today while the Cantonese army moved toward the coast to challenge the invaders.

AUTO COLLISION AT LEISTVILLE BASIS OF SUIT

Chester Stevens, Saltcreek township, filed suit through William A. Stevens, his father, in Common Pleas court Thursday against Samuel Myers, Portsmouth, seeking $5,043 damages.

The case is based on an auto wreck on June 18, 1937. Stevens' petition says he was driving his car on Route 56 when it was involved in a collision with that of the defendant, traveling on Route 159.

Stevens asks $5,000 for personal injuries, and says his auto valued at $50 before the accident, was worth $75 after the wreck. The petition claims Myers was driving at a high rate of speed and failed to observe signs and take proper precautions at the Leistville intersection.

As Lewis Offered to Resign

THIS photo of John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, was taken at his Washington press conference shortly after he told newsmen that he would resign his post in the C. I. O. if William Green, president of the rival American Federation of Labor, would resign his. When told of Lewis' offer at the convention of the A. F. of L. at Houston, Tex., Green called the plan "an attempted fraud on the public" and said he would leave his decision to the A. F. of L. vote. Green, unopposed, was up for reelection to the A. F. of L. presidency again. He has been elected each year for 14 years.

INMATE OF HOME YOUTHS HUNTED HURT SERIOUSLY IN NEW ENGLAND BY CLOTHES FIRE DEATH MYSTERY

Mr. Spangler, who entered the institution last Saturday, was in the yard at the time of the accident. Just how the clothing ignited is not known.

H. E. Mowery, superintendent of the home, said Mr. Spangler ran into the building from the yard with his clothes blazing from his waist up. A blanket, fire extinguisher and bucket of water were used to put out the fire. The most severe burns were on his back.

Mr. Spangler formerly resided on S. Scioto street and hauled straw for the Container Corporation.

ELYRIA SHERIFF ORDERED TO PUT UP $50,000 BOND

ELYRIA, Oct. 13 — (UP) — Lorain county commissioners today notified Sheriff William F. Grall, who admitted receiving money from slot machine interests, that he must increase his office bond from $30,000 to $50,000 at once or be automatically disqualified.

It was the second time his bond had been ordered increased. It was raised from $15,000 a few weeks ago.

Sheriff Grall regarded as "complete vindication of me" the conviction of four of the five men tried in Common pleas court here on charges of bribery in connection with slot machine operations.

The sheriff said he had no comment to make at present on demands that he resign from office because of testimony during the trial that he received "protection" payments from slot machine operators.

"But I am happy and pleased with the verdict," he said. "The jury used very good judgment, particularly in freeing David Crawford, sr."

He said he wanted to "talk to several people before I decide what I'm going to do." He went to Lorain this morning.

Nip And Prince Draw 3,200 Pounds Over 24 Feet On Clay Footing

Vincent Brothers of New Holland, carried away first, second and fifth prizes Wednesday with their teams in the lightweight horse pulling contest at the National Dairy Show, Columbus.

Herbert and Earl, Jr., won first prize with Nip and Prince, a bay team. The horses tugged 3,200 pounds 24 feet, 1 1/2 inches. Herbert then paired one horse he owned with one owned by Walter Ruoff, Grove City, and took the second prize. Third and fourth prizes went to John Day, Springfield, Ind.

Clay Footing Blamed

The team owned by Harley Mace, New Holland, driven by Harry Vincent, placed fifth. This team had set a new record at Coshocton last week by tugging 3,250 pounds for 27 1/2 feet. The record could not be reached Wednesday because of clay footing on the Coliseum floor. Sod is the best footing. There were 15 teams in the finals.

The winning team won $100 for first prize money. The 15 drivers divided $1,000. Awards ranged from $100 to $50.

Motor Industry Reports Orders Setting Record

Buick Co. Sales Top 10-Year Mark; Double Shifts Necessary In Many Detroit District Factories

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—(UP)—A survey of the automobile industry today revealed a marked acceleration of re-employment. The pace had quickened so that it promised to meet one of organized labor's most insistent demands—that the automobile industry find work for all its workers. It was suggested that the industry might be operating on production schedule soon, which would obviate the need for the 32 hour week solution of unemployment advanced by the United Automobile Workers.

The Buick Motor Car company announced that virtually all its plants were operating two shifts on the five day week. The company said its dealers had reported more orders for 1939 cars than they had had at any time in the last 10 years.

General Gain Seen

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors, predicted that his corporation's 1939 business would exceed that of 1938 and said he believed there were indications of "a long upward pull" for all business.

Company by company, the survey revealed:

BUICK—Now employing 11,900 men at Flint plant and will recall 1,200 more before Nov. 1. Fisher body plant No. 1, servicing this plant, now employing 5,500 and will recall 500 more. Production schedule now calls for 7,000 cars more than original schedules and more than 8,000 men have been rehired since production started on 1939 models. Schedules call for 21,000 cars during October and 24,000 during November.

CHEVROLET—Now working 9,000 men at Flint. Will rehire 3,000 more at a rate of 300 a day.

OLDSMOBILE—Begins double shifts at Lansing plant next week. The addition will bring total employment to 8,500, approximately double the present figure.

CHRYSLER—Has recalled 20,000 workers since production of 1939 cars began.

GRAHAM-PAIGE—1939 production begins Monday.

HUDSON—Now employing 6,000. Will be operating at capacity within a month with a force of 11,000 to 12,000.

Franklin County Delegation In Assembly Issue Call For Legislation

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—(UP)—A call to all state legislators to meet here soon to settle the controversy between the federal Social Security board and the Davey administration over the old age pension division's methods was sent out today by the Franklin county delegation in the legislature.

The eight legislators asked Lt. Gov. Paul Yoder, president of the senate, and Rep. Frank R. Uible, speaker of the house "to invite and urge members of the legislature to come here to organize a movement to determine why Ohio is to be deprived of $4,000,000 for pensions during the balance of this year."

The meeting will attempt "to find a means, if possible, to persuade those who are in temporary authority to abandon any and all contemplated procedure that is delaying receipt of federal assistance."

Prague Invokes Martial Law; Budapest Set 6 O'clock Deadline

KOMAROM, Czech-Hungarian frontier, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Official dispatches today disclosed a reign of terror in Ruthenia by organized bands equipped with foreign arms and led by Hungarian reserve officers. The news caused a grave crisis in Czech negotiations for settlement of Hungary's minority demands.

The official Czech advice from Ruthenia, which Hungary has demanded be ceded to her, reported sporadic fighting in which at least two Czechoslovaks were killed and many Hungarians were arrested. Martial law was invoked by the Prague government.

Terrorism also was reported from Bratislava, where a number of Hungarians were arrested in the Peregine district of Slovakia, part of which the Budapest government is demanding in its drive for return of more than 700,000 Magyars in Czechoslovakia. Those arrested were charged with terrorism.

Mukacevo, a city of 26,000, was the center of the Ruthenian terrorism which official statements described as "murder, manslaughter, robbery and crimes endangering the public."

$500,000 DAMAGE CAUSED BY FIRE AT OIL COMPANY

LINDEN, N. J., Oct. 13.—(UP)—Fire that raged more than 18 hours through the 12-acre Cities Service company plant, fed by almost 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline, naphtha, kerosene and oil from exploding storage tanks, was extinguished today after it had caused more than $500,000 damage.

Fire fighters, who had waged a losing battle most of the night, gained their first advantage early today when with four feet of foamite they extinguished a blazing 40-foot tank that had threatened to explode and spray the whole area with 2,000,000 gallons of flaming crude oil.

Five hundred fire-fighters were on the scene, struggling to keep the flames away from the nearby Sinclair Oil company plant, which has 30 storage tanks, and the Standard Oil company plant, largest refinery in the world, with 800 tanks.

Twenty Cities Service tanks, containing 480,000 to 2,100,000 gallons of gasoline and oil each, already had been destroyed. Some had gone up in thundering explosions, some had collapsed when heat melted their seams. There were 175 tanks on the Cities Service property.

Fire companies from five cities had been waging a battle since 1 p. m. yesterday, when the fire started with the violent explosion of a 1,680,000-gallon storage tank. A three-ton mass of molten iron, dislodged by that blast, was hurled 150 yards onto tracks of the Central railroad of New Jersey.

All workmen at the plant escaped but seven fire-fighters had been burned or injured.

Japanese troops moved inland on a path paralleling British leased territory on the mainland, but about 40 miles away.

Japanese navy sources asserted that already the Japanese had severed the Canton-Hong Kong railroad, life line of supply for all southern China.

It was asserted that Japanese met little serious resistance and that a force of 2,000 Chinese was wiped out at one point along the line of advance.

Chinese reported that advance guards of the defending and invading forces had met at three points near the coast and that there was fierce fighting in each instance.

Fearing devastating Japanese air raids, authorities of the American Lingnan university of Canton suspended classes. Women attached to the university were advised to leave the area.

The Japanese first cut the Honk Kong-Canton railroad by destroying three bridges in airplane raids.

The main force of the South China Japanese army was expected to make for the railroad at a point near Cheungmaktau, 50 miles from Hong Kong.

However, large forces of Cantonese troops were massing at Waichow, 80 miles East of Canton, and it was on this force, apparently, that the Chinese depended to save Canton.

Hence it was believed that the Japanese would have to attack Waichow before they attempted to occupy the railroad in force, as otherwise they would leave a big army on their right flank.

Fragmentary reports told of Japanese mass airplane and warship bombardments along the coast. Airplanes also attacked the Canton-Hankow railroad, extending northward, as well as the Hong Kong-Canton line.

Chinese asserted that their planes raided the main Japanese air base for southern China on Quemoy island, severely damaging some hangars.

settlement of the minority question. Developments included:

1. The Hungarian delegation rejected the Czech's "final" offer of territory and gave the Czech's until 6 p. m. to "come to terms." If they fail, a formal ultimatum was predicted.

2—Hungarian extremists urged the government to use force to win its demands. An article, signed with the initials of Prime Minister Bela Imredy, appeared in a semi-official Budapest newspaper saying that Hungarians would win their demands "even if we have to do so with our bare hands."

3—Poland, which is backing the Hungarian claims, was reported firmly to have asked the German government not to meddle in the crisis. Germany has indicated opposition to the Polish-Hungarian position, which however is supported by Italy.

4—Czech foreign minister Frantisek Chvalkovsky arrived in Berlin for conferences on future Czech-German relations. One of the Czech representatives in negotiations with Hungary at this frontier town, Ferdinand Dursansky, returned from a hurried trip to Berlin which may have been a bid for German support.

The Hungarian delegation made a hurried trip to Budapest for new instructions before renewing talks with the Czechs here at the 6 p. m. deadline.

Similar to Sudeten

Meanwhile, the increasing reports of terrorism, which Czechs charged to Hungarians, made the outcome of the negotiations extremely doubtful. In many ways the terroristic activities resembled the outbreaks in the Sudetenland prior to its annexation by Germany.

Czech police encircled bands of terrorists, alleged to be Hungarians, in the Ruthenia district and reported that a Czech sergeant named Ondrej Ryba, was killed in fighting near Kvasy. Police investigation showed that the terrorist bands had appeared in strength during the last 48 hours and were organized on a military basis, the dispatches said.

The terrorists were equipped with foreign arms and munitions, according to official messages, and police discovered seven places where the weapons had been distributed. Dispatches from Bratislava said that alleged Hungarians creating disturbances in Slovakia were found to be well-armed, carrying revolvers, hand grenades and dynamite.

FATHER GUILTY OF KILLING SON IN DEATH PACT

MEDIA, Pa., Oct. 13.—(UP)—Edward Pfaff, 22, was convicted of second degree murder today in connection with the death of his 22-month-old son, who was a victim of an uncompleted suicide pact between Pfaff and his wife.

The jury, while finding him guilty in the baby's death, returned a verdict of not guilty in connection with his wife's death.

Pfaff, an unemployed mill hand, was resuscitated but his wife, Marie, 21, and son, Edward, Jr., both were asphyxiated.

Pfaff told police head his wife agreed to kill themselves and the child to avoid deeper poverty and the birth of another child. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

tance and instead adopt a course of public conduct that will promptly bring to our Ohio treasury this vast sum of federal money for immediate distribution to our needy aged citizens," the call said.

It was signed by six Franklin county representatives and two senators and sent to all members of the assembly, to Governor Davey, Welfare Director Margaret Allman, Pension Chief Wray Bevens, Finance Director M. Ray Allison, and the Social Security board.

The call expressed the hope that the legislators would demand a "collective, if only semi-official, consideration of this important legislative matter and its peaceful settlement" before Oct. 25 (when pension checks must be put in the mails).

The call was sent out as the Social Security board was reiterating its stand: that no federal pension money will be forthcoming to Ohio until the federal government receives assurance that the state pension division will be "cleaned up."

The appeal was signed by Reps. James F. Coady, A. Allen Holmes, Charles E. Justus, Jacob F. Myers, Robert J. Beatty and George F. Ketterer, and Senators George M. Morris and Francis F. Howard.

GRANGERS WIN MUSIC CONTEST

the result of hours of patient work under the leadership of Mrs. James Moffitt of Circleville. The contrast in the numbers was interesting and captivated the audience which was forbidden applause during the presentation of the selections of the choruses.

Voices Contrast

Miss Reber's sweet mezzo-soprano voice was enjoyed in her number showing in contrast to the full deep tones of Mr. Heffner's baritone. Great flexibility of voices was apparent in the last selection of the chorus.

The women of the Pickaway county chorus were dressed in white, each wearing a shoulder corsage of rose carnations, the men wore dark suits with white carnations. Miss Dorothy Glick of Washington grange played the piano accompaniments.

The judges for the evening included Prof. Ellis Snyder, Capital university College of Music; Miss Ollie Ater of Clarksburg and Miss Ruth Melvin of Wellston. Their decision brought a burst of applause from the audience.

Members of the winning chorus and their granges are Mrs. William Hegele, Miss Eleanor Dreisbach, Miss Doris Leist, Miss Rosemary Boggs, Weldon Leist and John Hegele, Logan Elm; Miss Pauline M. Shryock and Mrs. Roy Fraunfelter, Salt Creek Valley; Mrs. M. M. Bowman, Mrs. Arthur Leist, Miss Ruby Harris, Mrs. Thomas Heffner, Miss Margaret List, Thomas Heffner and Lawrence Warner, Washington; Misses Elizabeth and Ann Reber, Mrs. Homer Reber, Mrs. Arthur Sark, Miss Metta Mae Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Huffer, Everett Beers, Hugh Huffer and the Rev. C. L. Thomas, Nebraska; Mrs. C. E. Beers, Scioto; Mrs. Herman Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, Ralph Fisher and C. H. Riegel, Scioto Valley.

George Snell of Summit Hill, Ross county deputy, spoke a few words in appreciation of the concert expressing regret in the absence of a chorus from his county. Vinton county, the other one of this group, was not represented.

Pickaway county chorus will enter a regional contest, the place to be announced later. A state contest will then be held, the most efficient chorus to sing at Farmers' Week, in February, at Columbus.

The next public appearance of Pickaway grange chorus will be Oct. 30 at Chillicothe Veterans' hospital when it will join with the Circleville American Legion Drum Corps in an afternoon concert.

The train was en route from Chicago to the Milwaukee road's Savanna, Ill., yards. The accident occurred in an isolated section, approximately five miles west of Elgin. Almora is a small farming community without police service and it was nearly two hours before word of the accident reached Elgin.

ONTARIO FOREST FIRES BECOME MENACE AGAIN

Winds Create Dangerous Situation In Border District

DEATH TOLL NOW 21

3,000 C. C. C. Enrollees And W. P. A. Workers Aid In Struggle

PORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 13.—(UP)—A weary army in 5,000 fire-fighters battled to prevent brush and forest fires in the Minnesota-Ontario border region from spreading today as fresh winds caused the fires to flare up in half a dozen sections.

Authorities said the fires, which had raged for three days over 700 square miles, would go on another rampage if winds increase in velocity. Twenty-one persons already were known dead and others were reported missing.

The fire-fighters had all of the fires under control yesterday. But as winds freshened and humidity dropped, they called for additional equipment. Rangers said they would be able to control the fires under present conditions.

Situation Worse
"The situation is much worse," Ranger Vic Lofgren said. "The adverse weather conditions have caused fires to flare up in several vicinities but the crews are holding their own."

The situation throughout southern Ontario was described as "critical," with several hundred men fighting to keep a fire from spreading to a tourist and hunting district near Clearwater Lake.

Provincial police had evacuated 75 families from Dance township and along a 50-mile fire front North and West of Port Frances. Across the border in Minnesota, nearly 3,000 C.C.C. enrollees, W.P.A. workers and volunteers were fighting new blazes near Gemmill, Little Fork, and Ericsburg, Minn. Flames were threatening Summer homes and several resorts along Rainey lake on the boundary.

Both International Falls, Minn., and Fort Frances, threatened when the fire was at its worst three days ago, were believed out of danger.

Families Removed
Authorities believed all families had been evacuated from the endangered area but reports circulated that as many as 10 persons were still missing. Rescue parties continued their search through

Those Movie Kisses—They're in Three Parts!

Director Busby Berkeley

MOVIE kisses are divided into three parts, the "approach," the "kiss itself" and the "parting." So says Busby Berkeley, prominent director. With the assistance of several well-known film players, we show you what Mr. Berkeley means. The "approach," the director says, must be handled a little like a game of chess. The average audience wants to anticipate the kiss for a few seconds before it actually takes place. A surprise kiss, he says, loses half its screen value. The "kiss itself," Berkeley points out, must be left to the instincts and caprices of the kissers, just as in real life, but neither face must be distorted by camera angle. For the "parting," the kissers must break without being too disheveled, without lipstick on the man's face and without

Dance township and adjoining region for additional victims.

Ontario police found the body of the twenty-first victim late yesterday. Seventeen of the victims were killed in Dance township. Many were women and children who were trapped by smoke and flames while fleeing from their homes.

IL DUCE LOSES 12,147 SOLDIERS IN SPANISH WAR

ROME, Oct. 13.—(UP)—Italian troop casualties in the Spanish civil war have totaled 12,147, it was announced today as Fascist Authorities prepared a jubilant welcome for an estimated 10,000 homecoming soldiers scheduled to reach Naples Oct. 20.

The casualties were classified as follows: Killed: officers 227, enlisted men 2,430; died of disease: officers and men 278; total killed or died of disease 2,935. Made prisoner: officers three, men 351; total 354; wounded: officers 697; men 8,161; total 8,858. Grand total 12,147.

It was added that about 2,000 of the wounded were permanently crippled or invalidated.

(Italy's losses in the Ethiopian war totaled 2,313 native Italians killed, died of wounds or missing, according to reports. No figures are available for wounded.)

From the political aspect, it was indicated that Premier Benito Mussolini was not pleased with the effect of his repatriation order on Great Britain and France.

It seemed that Mussolini had hoped that when the British government learned he was bringing home 10,000 infantrymen, it would agree to put the British-Italian friendship agreement into force, and recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia. But British has shown no enthusiasm. The British government apparently insisted that Mussolini bring home far more than 10,000 soldiers.

Hog prices took a heavy drop on the Circleville livestock auction, Wednesday, with the top quotation 90 cents under last week's high.

Good to choice hogs sold from $7.40 to $7.60 this week as compared with $8.25 to $8.50 for the same grades last week. Harry J. Briggs service manager for the Farm Bureau, said the increase in receipts of all markets, coupled with the usual price reductions in October, caused the prices to slide downward.

Top on light hogs was $7.55 as compared with $8.30 last week. Ten pure bred Hampshire hogs, lacking 12 days of being six months old, were sold by G. M. Newton, Washington township, for $7.55 per hundredweight. The hogs averaged 236 pounds. All were from the same litter.

MINISTERS PLAN CONFERENCE ON WORLD ISSUES

Luncheon Conference To Be Held Soon To Hear

UNDERSTANDING SOUGHT

Many Outstanding Men To
Speak At Pastors' Meet
Jan. 30-Feb. 2

Returning from a meeting of the International Relations Committee of the Ohio Council of Churches, the Rev. T. C. Harper announced that ministers of Pickaway county will be invited to a luncheon conference in Circleville next month to discuss plans for study of international problems in the local churches.

An outside speaker will be assigned as discussion leader for the meeting, according to plans for a series of 80 such county conferences over the state, which were made by the committee in Columbus.

Meeting in local churches, arranged by the respective pastors, to enlist increased interest of laymen in present problems of international relations, will follow the county-wide meeting of clergymen, leaders of the movement hope.

For Peace Movement

"It was brought out at our meeting in Columbus that the purpose of this state-wide program is not to conduct propaganda for any specific peace movement, but rather encourage reading and study on international affairs, with a view to better understanding of the world situation," the Rev. Mr. Harper explained.

Twenty Ohio clergymen who have studied questions of peace and international relations will give about one week each to the leadership of county conferences like the one being arranged here.

The Rev. Mr. Harper attended a meeting of the program committee for the Ohio Pastors' conference which will hold its twentieth session in Columbus, Jan. 30, to Feb. 2. The committee is trying to secure many of the outstanding religious leaders of the country for this meeting. Speakers already scheduled include Dr. Ralph Sockman of New York, Dr. Ross Stover and Rabbi Louis Wolsey of Philadelphia.

SEEN ALONG FIFTH AVENUE

GRACIOUS dinner dresses are reported to be among the best-sellers along fashion avenue. A slim black crepe frock, with long, tight sleeves, has a simulated bolero suggested by graduated rows of silver bangle and crystal beads. The cuffs and the hem are marked by the same trimming. Then there is another handsome gown of sapphire blue velvet, sprinkled with gold. Padded rolls of the fabric give a high shoulder effect. A narrow band of the fabric forms the collar. The bodice is low waisted. The skirt has a slight train in back. Black silk jersey is used for some slim, draped dinner gowns that are most becoming to the slender figure.

To Stop Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation's got you down so you feel heavy, tired and doxy—it's time you did something about it. And something more than taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat only the things most people do, the chances are that a very simple fact causes your constipation—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, eat crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran contains both "bulk" and the intestinal tonic, vitamin B. And it's not a drug, not a medicine! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

BY BOB BURNS

The best way to appreciate our country is to compare it with some of the others. Those military countries take every available young man and put him in the army and teach him to fight. They almost have'ta have a war because the men are not trained to do anything else. This country has an army too but it's an army of workers.

I know one fella over here who applied for a job as an artist model. The artist said, "This is a gruelin' job. You have'ta stand in one position for hours. Do you think you can do it?" The man says, "That'll be a cinch for me—I've been workin' on a government job for sixteen months!"

Sportsmen Put Approval On New State Program

Arrival of 15 raccoon for distribution throughout Pickaway county caused an early adjournment of the meeting of the Pickaway Farmer's and Sportsman's association Wednesday night.

Clarence Francis, conservation officer, asked the help of sportsmen in releasing the raccoon.

The association approved a fifteen-point program sponsored by the League of Ohio Sportsmen, comprised of various sportsmen's clubs of the state. The Pickaway county organization is a member of the league.

Program Listed

The program includes: 1. The development of a definitely planned long time conservation program in Ohio; 2. The teaching of conservation in the schools; 3. The preservation of shorelines on streams and lakes for the use of the public, particularly with reference to new bodies of water; 4. State purchase of land along lakes and streams for conservation and recreation purposes; 5. The development of an adequate system of state parks, including parks on shores of Lake Erie; 6. A continuous reforestation program, both on submarginal lands and along lakes and streams; 7. An adequate soil conservation program, with especial reference to agricultural lands; 8. An adequate water conservation program, including stream development, flood control and the creation of artificial lakes and reservoirs; 9. An effectual program to solve the problem of stream pollution; 10. A program to bring about a wider appreciation of the kindred interests of farmers and sportsmen; 11. The encouragement of a program to cooperate with agriculture in the cultivation of game through the use of natural habitat; 12. Extension of the game management program to every county in the state on a basis comparable to the county agricultural agent system; 13. The creation of national parks in Ohio amounting to a minimum of a million acres; 14. Legislation on a constitutional amendment to take conservation out of politics, and 15. The use of conservation funds for conservation purposes.

The association has raised and released 535 pheasants in the county this year.

Extension agents from 14 Ohio counties, specialists from Ohio State University, and state club leaders recently spent three days in the first 4-H Club Workshop figuring ways and means of strengthening future club programs for Ohio's 55,000 members.

HEBRON CHURCH TO CELEBRATE LONG SERVICE

Rev. P. A. Harlan Directs
Congregation In Its
Centennial Rites

SUPERINTENDENT TO TALK

Early History Recalled By
Pastor; Morning, Afternoon
Programs Planned

The Hebron Methodist Episcopal church of the Derby-Darbyville charge will celebrate its 100th anniversary next Sunday, Oct. 16, with special services morning and afternoon. Sunday school will be conducted at 9:30 in the morning, followed by public worship at 10:30. Dr. Ira Jones, district superintendent, will preach the morning service.

The Rev. P. A. Harlan is the church's pastor.

A basket dinner will be served at noon preceding the afternoon program which will begin at 1:30 or 2 o'clock. The Rev. R. T. Stimel, pastor of the Mt. Sterling church, and former minister will speak. There will be special music.

Official Members Meet

At the close of the afternoon program an important business meeting of the official members of the Derby-Darbyville charge will be held with the Rev. Mr. Jones presiding.

According to the "History of Franklin and Pickaway Counties," published about 1880, Hebron church was organized at the beginning of the nineteenth century "composed in part by the following persons: John Porter and wife, Severen Maddux and wife, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Catherine Richey, Mrs. Eleanor Thomas, several of the Hays and Reeves families, and others, whose names are forgotten. Meetings were held in the log dwellings of the settlers for a time, and subsequently, in the little log schoolhouse near Foster's. The Revs. Joseph Hays and William Morrow were perhaps the first circuit preachers on this charge which was attached to Deer creek circuit."

The present meeting-house was built as early as 1838 and is, without doubt, the first church edifice built in Monroe township, according to church members.

For more than 40 years Hebron has been part of the Darbyville charge and during that time the following pastors have served there:

1891-1895, William Abernethy; 1895-1898, W. E. Prior; 1898-1902, M. Ricketts; 1902-1905, E. R. Stafford; 1905-1907, F. B. Davis; 1907-1909, A. C. Bostwick; 1909-1912, J. G. Tederick; 1912-1914, Andrew Plumb; 1914-1916, C. N. Smith; 1916-1918, C. B. Plummer; 1918-1920, W. M. Davis; 1920-1921, E. D. Hanna; 1921-1923, H. G. Carroll; 1923-1924, W. H. Retting; 1924-1926, W. H. Marble; 1926-1927, N. O. Sours; 1927-1928, J. H. Walker; 1928-1929, E. E. Rhodes; 1929-1932, W. B. Rose; 1932-1933, Paul C. Scott; 1933-1935, L. D. Ensley, and 1935-, P. A. Harlan.

The tire industry is represented in the "time capsule" sunk by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., at the 1939 New York World's Fair, with a section of a modern safety tire prepared by the Flak Rubber Corporation, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

The inscription on the back of the section reads: "In 1939, 100 years after the discovery of the vulcanization of rubber, the safest automobile tire manufactured consisted of a cover or tread of rubber containing a substantial portion of carbon black, supported by multiple layers of cotton cords, insulated from each other by layers of rubber. The tire served as a protector for a thin rubber air container. The tread portion was rendered flexible by the insertion of cross strips of white rubber, providing increased traction."

The "capsule," buried beneath the site of the Westinghouse building, contains a resume of modern civilization. It is not to be opened for 5,000 years. Clues to its location will be mentioned in books placed in libraries throughout the world.

In tribute to unbiased engineers and Safti-Flight Tires Cussins and Fearn are displaying in their window a cross section picture of this capsule.

Marvine Pontius And Dwight Dunkle to Wed

Engagement Made Known At Party

The engagement and coming marriage of Miss Marvine Pontius daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Turney Pontius of Pickaway township, and Mr. Dwight Dunkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dunkle, was announced, Wednesday, at a shower honoring Miss Pontius. Mrs. Harold Pontius, Mrs. Wilbur Pontius and Miss Irene Pontius, twin sister of the bride-elect, were joint hostesses at the affair which was given at the home of Mrs. Harold Pontius, Walnut street.

A blue and white color theme was used in the decorations and in all party appointments. Games and contests were the diversion of the evening. Mrs. John Bolender was the prize winner. The interesting secret was revealed when the nut cups which contained miniature umbrellas, were found to conceal the names of the bride and bridegroom and the date, Oct. 16. THERE'S a strong dash of Scotch in the mode this year. The dressmaking houses in Paris celebrated the visit of Queen Elizabeth of Paris by paying tribute to her Scottish origin. And this, of course, was done by using authentic plaids in several effective costumes, of which this is one. The jacket of this suit is in burgundy heavy woolen with yoke, pocket flaps and skirt in cyclamen and burgundy checked plaid woolen. Little tucks radiate from the yoke and pockets. Worn with it is a burgundy sweater. It is perfect for the business girl or back-to-college wardrobe.

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, October 13

MUCH PROGRESS and satisfaction are read from this day's side-real operations, with much activity and keen interest in both old and new projects. There may be very lucrative new contracts or agreements, in which initiative, acumen or shrewdness will gain objectives, especially with "big business" associates.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year of whirling activity. Old as well as new matters are under high impetus and should bring to bear much talent, sagacity and shrewdness in handling perplexing situations leading toward desired objectives.

A child born on this day may be highly intellectual, alert, keen and of impressive personality, which will attract the co-operation of elders and those in high standing.

MEXICAN ARMY FEARS TROUBLE IN SONORA AREA

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Mex., Oct. 13—(UP)—Federal troops patrolled the city hall Plaza today fearing a new political outbreak after the fatal shooting of Horacio Clark, red-headed leader of a coup last March against Presidente (Mayor) Martin S. Burgueno and Arturo Mendoza, secretary-treasurer of Agua Prieta.

Mendoza, charged with Clark's shooting, was arrested several hours later by municipal authorities.

Police Chief Rufino Mendez said the shooting resulted from personal hatred and Clark's repeated efforts to oust the Burgueno-Mendoza political faction.

Clark, of English-Mexican parentage, and Mendoza met last night in the Monterey bar, a night club owned by Burgueno. Hot words followed and the pair crossed the street to a service station where each drew a gun. Witnesses said Mendoza shot Clark once over the heart then fled.

The administration of President Burgueno, together with Gov. Roman Yocupicio of Sonora state, reportedly was aligned against Mexican army officers.

Dispatches from Mexico City yesterday reported the government was becoming increasingly concerned over differences between Gov. Yocupicio and General Jose Tafuya Caballero, zone commander of the army, and between the governor and various state officials.

Frankfort Bringing Fast Team To Circleville; Lineups About Set

The stage was set today and the contestants were ready for the football game Friday night between Circleville high school's varsity and the one representing Frankfort. The contest will start at 8 o'clock under the lights of school field with Walter Rosenthal and Ray Coleman, of Capital University and Ohio Wesleyan respectively, as officials.

The Tigers, defeated in their first three games, are hopeful of entering the victory column for the first time despite Frankfort's 6-6 tie with Washington C. H. and 35-0 victory over the Chillicothe reserves. The invaders are fast and may pull a surprise, but Coaches Roy Black and Tom Armstrong have been working their charges diligently in blocking and tackling assignments and hope to return the victory.

No lineup changes are contemplated by the Tiger mentors although several youths not counted as first stringers so far this year have been putting up battles for positions and may get into the fray at an early time.

The starting lineups are expected to look like this:

Circleville	Frankfort
Jackson L. E.	Bayless
Hill L. T.	Ragland
Arledge L. G.	McQuinnif
Nelson C.	Shuster
Hays R. G.	Bateman
Rooney R. T.	George
Heffner R. E.	Jones
Walters Q.	Francis
Stebbleton L. H.	Wright
Noggle R. H.	Adams

'BAMA, GOPHERS MAY NOT MEET IN 'POST' TILT

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Oct. 13—(UP)—Coach Frank Thomas of the University of Alabama today doubted possibility of a football game this fall between his Crimson Tide and the University of Minnesota for the benefit of New England storm sufferers.

Thomas said as far as he knew nothing had been done concerning Gov. Bigg Graves suggestion that such a game be arranged. He explained that both teams had full schedules for the rest of the season.

Richard C. Foster, University of Alabama president, said officials of the Western conference, to which Minnesota belongs, had indicated they believed the plan unfeasible.

DUROCHER, NEW DODGER BOSS, AT FATHER'S BIER

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 13—(UP)—Leo (Lippy) Durocher, newly appointed manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, came here today to attend the funeral of his father, George. While Durocher's appointment as pilot of the Brooklyn National league baseball club was not made public until yesterday, "Lippy" had known about it since the World Series began in Chicago, and his father had received the good news before he died on Monday.

BOSTON, Oct. 13—(UP)—A place kick made on the final play gave Boston college a 9-6 victory over University of Detroit's football team in a Columbus day game played before a crowd of 22,000 here. Fella Gintoff booted the deciding goal from the nine yard line. Detroit took the lead on a first period touchdown by Ed Palumbo and held it until the fourth when Pete Cignetti scored for Boston.

Five-Man Line Gaining Favor In Ohio Schools

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13—(UP)—As the Ohio scholastic gridiron campaign approaches the half-way mark, the spread of the five-man line in its many variations for defensive purposes today ranked as one of the most significant trends in high school football strategy.

Taking a leaf from their older university and college brethren, the prep school coaches are re-arranging their proteges to strengthen defenses against the growing threat of aerial attacks.

While the trend is not universal, several coaches, among them notably the veteran "Pop" Warner at Dayton Fairmont, use the five-man forward wall almost exclusively when the other team has the ball.

Warner probably has given the new maneuver more novel treatment than any of the others. His strategy depends on lightning-quick interchanges by his players from five to six or seven-man formations as the occasion demands.

While Warner's Fairmont clubs have taken it on the chin some this season, Coach Ike Trubey has used the five-man line with success at Fostoria where his eleven is undefeated in four games. The five-man formation stopped the touted Fremont passing game lead last Friday as Fostoria triumphed, 38 to 0.

North Undefeated

Columbus North, another undefeated, untied eleven, has also employed the five-man line to great advantage in its early games. The Polar Bears, current Columbus leaders, will need all their strategy this week to turn back Columbus South, tied once, in a game that may decide the city championship.

Fostoria's Redmen should have an easier time with Lima South at Fostoria. Designation as the high school gridiron classic for the week, and possibly for the season, goes to the Massillon-Alliance clash Friday night at Alliance. Both undefeated and untied, the Tigers and Aviators put two high-scoring, fast-stepping outfits on the field.

Massillon, defending state champions, rolled up 110 points and allowed 34 in defeating McKeesport, Pa.; Mansfield, Warren and Sharon, Pa. The Aviators, featuring the super-sensation Hillis Hume, who alone has tallied 17 touchdowns has scored 178 points and allowed 13. Its victims were Newton Falls, Kent Roosevelt, Grove City, Pa., and Youngstown Wilson. Hume celebrated his 16th birthday last week with four touchdowns in less than a quarter against Youngstown Wilson.

Another prize contest shapes up when Portsmouth, undefeated, and untied, invades Chillicothe, victim of last week's biggest upset. The heavy Trojans were favored to win but the Cavaliers may spring an upset on their home grounds.

Among other top-light games this week are Cleveland Rhodes at Marion Harding, New Philadelphia at East Liverpool, Elmira, N. Y., at Canton McKinley, Mansfield at Sandusky, Akron West at Elyria, Norwalk at Gallon and Tronton versus Hamilton.

BRONKO MISSES DIVE, BUT WINS HIS MATCH

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13—(UP)—Bronko Nagurski, one-time Minnesota football player, missed a tackle in the wrestling ring last night, but it helped him to win his match.

He lunged at his opponent, Sander Szabo, the Hungarian, and when he skidded out of the ring on his head, Szabo's seconds wrapped their charge in a bathrobe because they thought Nagurski unconscious.

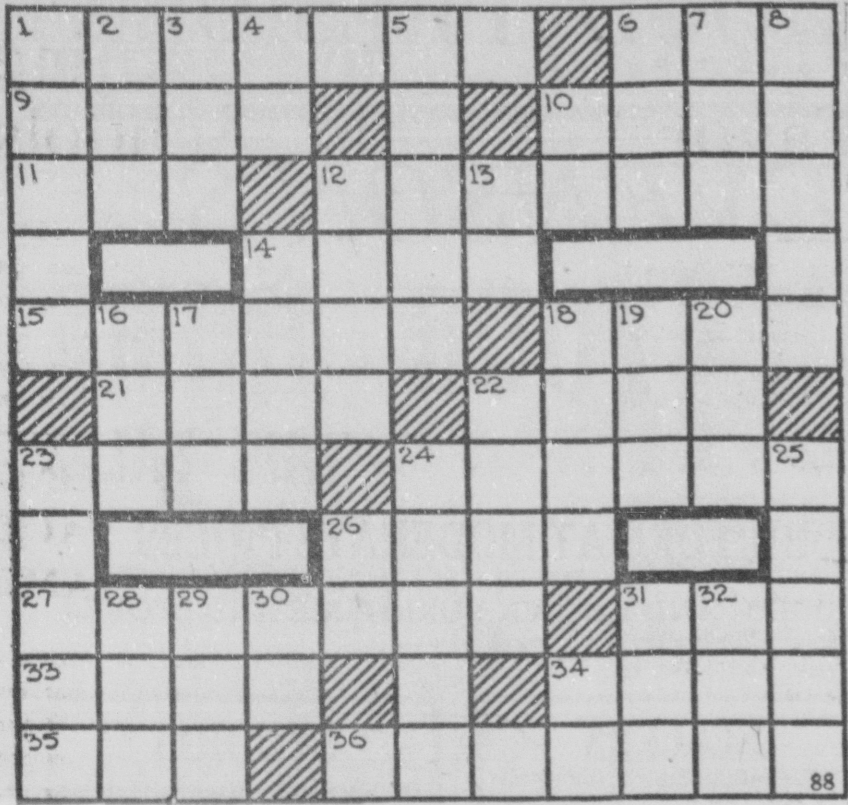

Nagurski came to life, re-entered the ring and floored his opponent who became hopelessly entangled in the robe.

BUCKS DRILLING RUNNING ATTACK FOR LOOP GAME

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13—(UP)—Ohio State will unleash its hardest and fastest running attack of the season against the Northwestern Wildcats at Evanston, Ill., Saturday afternoon.

Coach Francis Schmidt, noting that Buck ground plays piled up 160 yards, 118 of them in the first half, against Southern California, apparently has relegated his famed "razzle-dazzle" offensive to the background

75 CAPITAL STUDENTS TO PRESENT PAGEANT

A cast of over 75 Capital university students will be featured in one of the country's most unique dramatic productions when the mammoth pageant drama "Martin Luther, Protestant" is presented at Sandusky, on Sunday, Oct. 16. The pageant will be presented as a special feature of the national convention of the American Lutheran church which convenes in the Lake Erie city at that time.

"Martin Luther, Protestant" was originally presented four years ago in Columbus at Capital university, but so widely was it acclaimed that not only has it been given in Columbus seven times, but it has played request engagements at Detroit, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and now Sandusky.

The huge cast is headed by Prof. William C. Craig, director of speech at Capital, and a veteran of the stage. Mr. Craig plays the role of Martin Luther. The remainder of the cast includes students and professors of the Columbus university.

When the pageant is given in Sandusky, Anna Marie Fellmeth of Circleville will be a member of the technical staff. Miss Fellmeth is the daughter of Mrs. R. P. Fellmeth, 135 Union street.

ATTENTION, milady! How's this for a smart new coiffure? It is an interesting version of the new swept-up hair dress. The hair is parted in the center and swept up from either temple to a mass of soft curls on the top of the head. The hair at the back of the crown is parted from ear to ear, the top hairbrushed up to the front of the head, while the lower part is brushed softly down and caught at the neckline with a jeweled pin.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND
Bringing to the screen another vivid and glamorous chapter taken from the history of the old West, Universal's new romantic drama, "Outlaw Express" comes to the Grand theatre Friday and Saturday.

Starring Bob Baker, and featuring

ing that flashing Spanish beauty and newcomer to the screen, Cecilia Callejo, the picture is staged in a gorgeous manner. In addition to the new songs of the range that will be presented by Baker, Miss Callejo is introduced in one of her famous specialty dances.

The story goes back to 1860, in the days when pony express riders were carrying the mails from California to the Missouri borderline, thence to go all the way East by means of train.

"Time Out For Murder", with Michael Whalen and Gloria Stuart, is on the screen, too.

AT THE CLIFTONA
Movie audiences are due for three big surprises when they see their favorite stars in Paramount's new romantic fiesta, "Tropic Holiday," which opens Friday at the Cliftona Theatre. Bob Burns, the favorite son of Arkansas, quits the state he has made famous and becomes a Senatorial candidate from Oklahoma. Hilarious Martha Raye comes down to earth as the secretary to a screen author and the elusive sweetheart of Burns, and Dorothy Lamour, trades her sarong for the gay native costumes of southern Mexico.

Ray Milland, heading the cast as the Hollywood writer who tries to "get away from it all" in the tropics, has a "straight" role, reminiscent of the one he played as
